Kenyatta received one of five MLK Humanitarian Awards given to a faculty or staff member found to embody the ideals of equity, inclusivity and justice espoused by King.

Kenyatta is a 2004 graduate of South Carolina State University and 2015 graduate of Columbia College where he received a Master of Education degree. Prior to coming to the College of Charleston in 2009, he taught English in local school districts.

After four years working for the College’s Upward Bound Program, he became the Assistant Director for Admissions, Access Initiatives and Pre-College Programs where he focuses on Diversity Recruitment and Retention.

In addition to his regular duties in the Admissions Office, he advises the student ambassadors and a service organization for students of color, Luminescent.

Chair Hay congratulated Kenyatta on this great honor and thanked him for his recommendation that the College consider support for a volunteer barber shop on campus to demonstrate interest in supporting all areas of student life. A master barber and barber instructor in the Charleston area for 14 years, Kenyatta also gives students in the College’s SPECTRA program free haircuts during the summer. And last year, in an effort to create a safe space for minority males to have conversations about their struggles and build a sense of community and accountability, he worked with the Avery Center, OID, the OMSP, and with organization founders Warrenetta Mann and Jerez Mitchell to introduce “Cuts and Conversations” to the CofC campus.
Renard Harris expressed his support for a barber shop on campus. He noted that it would create a sense of community for all faculty, students and staff, particularly those of color.

Presentation to Michael Adeyanju
Chair Hay informed everyone that Michael Adeyanju will leave his position as Director of Executive Communications to lead communications for the CEO of the Children’s National Hospital in Washington, D.C.

- Michael Adeyanju, Director of Executive Communications, is heading to the Children’s National Hospital in Washington, D.C. to coordinate their CEO’s communication needs.

President Hsu wished them the very best and noted that they are indeed worthy of our respect and admiration. He stated, “we hate to see these talented people leave the College, but our loss is certainly their future employers gain. All this change is not unusual for a university. A university should be a place where employees can advance and move forward in their careers. We are in a period of transition at the College as evident by the number of deans and administrative searches taking place.”

Highlights

- This past fall, Fitch Ratings affirmed the College of Charleston’s status as “A+”. President Hsu thanked the Business Affairs team for all their hard work to help ensure the College remains a highly rated institution.

- Lastly, President Hsu touched on his relationship with the Board of Trustees. “I hope you all feel that you have the proper access you need and that you will feel comfortable and not hesitate to call me if you need anything. Some of you indicated you don’t think another meeting is needed. Please feel free to contact me anytime. I am here to serve the institution at your pleasure. Please let me know how I can improve.”

Board Chair’s Report

Chair Hay briefed the Board on a number of items:

- He thanked Dr. Alicia Caudill and Trustee Chuck Baker for recommending a report on the College’s Cougar Pantry for the Student Affairs Committee. He recommended that everyone consider donating non-perishable food items for the Cougar Pantry.

With much regret, Chair Hay shared that after 24 years of faithful service to the College’s Board of Trustees, Cherry has decided that she will not seek re-election for her Board Seat. She shared the following letter with Chair Hay last week.

“Dear Chair Hay,
   After considerable consideration, I have decided not to seek re-election to the Board of Trustees, first Congressional District, Seat 2. My lengthy but rewarding service to my beloved alma mater has caused me to take a pause and explore other board opportunities in the near future.

   I wish nothing but the best for the College and leave that under the incredible leadership of Dr. Andrew Hsu, we can expect brighter days ahead for our exemplary institution. While I have truly enjoyed serving with such an admirable staff and dedicated board members during my tenure, I am also profoundly grateful to my fellow Board members for their positive influence on me personally and professionally!

   I remain in service,
   L. Cherry Daniel, Ed.D.”

Chair Hay announced that an appropriate recognition of her service will be scheduled later this spring.

Andy Gianoukos is running for the 1st Congressional District, Seat 2, currently held by Cherry. Andy, class of ’94, works with Anderson Trucking Service, Inc. (ATS, Inc.), a trucking logistics business in Charleston.

It is likely that the College and University Trustee Screening Commission Board Candidate Hearings will be scheduled on a Monday or Tuesday in mid-to-late February or early March.

Copies of the Fall 2019 Quick Facts, Students by Career and Race/Ethnicity and Fall 2019 Enrollment Summary are at everyone’s places. Additional information about the College will be distributed closer to the date of the College’s Candidates’ Screening Commission Hearings.

New Business

Elizabeth Kassebaum provided housekeeping items:
- President Hsu will schedule spring meetings with Board Members who would like to meet with him again.

   - Now that the Board of Trustees has approved the Bylaws, and included in the Bylaws is Statute 59-101-285, Governing Board Meeting Attendance Requests, Board members will receive an attendance report card at every Board meeting.
The Statute requires that a Trustee must attend at least two-thirds of the regular and special meetings of the Board during any calendar year or a vacancy in that office is deemed to exist as of January 1 of the next year which shall be filled in the manner provided by law.

To date, all Board members have been in compliance with this Statute and, hopefully, these attendance report cards will be helpful.

- The Board of Trustees Shadowing Program is still available for any Board Members who might be interested.

- Elizabeth thanked Board Members who have already responded as having received her email from the State Ethics Commission regarding the “Statement of Economic Interests Report” which is due March 30.

Incumbent Board members running for re-election must submit their forms to Julie Price and also the State Ethics Commission.

- April 16-17 Board meeting has been moved to May 6-8 in conjunction with graduation and will include School Graduation Award Ceremonies as appropriate. The location of the Board meetings in May won’t be in Randolph Hall (probably a conference room in Addlestone).

- Mariah Cherniss with Blue Beyond will present a Board of Trustees Strategic Planning Workshop on Friday, March 20. On Thursday evening, March 19, the Board of Trustees will be invited to the Winthrop Roundtable Reception featuring Mayor Joe Riley as speaker.
